Court Sustains the Report Made by the Appraisers.

PLAINTIFF HAS SUSTAINED NO DAMAGE

End of the Controversy that Arose Over Closing Pourth Street, Where it Extends Into the South Bottoms.

The city of Omaha was victorious in the suit brought by Christian Tautkus to recover damages to his property, caused by the closing of the intersection of Fourth street and Poppleton avenue. The appraiseers appointed by the city to assess the damages to property caused by the closing of the street reported that Tautkus was not damaged by the closing, and the city approved the report of the appraisers. Tautkus did not appear before the board of equalization, but long after the time for appeal had expired went into court and asked that he beawarded damages. His appeal was not allowed to stand and the case was tried. The jury returned a sealed verdict Monday night which was opened yesterday morning and found to be in favor of the city.

Tautkus has been a thorn in the side of he city for several years. He owns two lots situated on Poppleton avenue, just east of the B. & M. railroad tracks, which cross oppleton avenue just at the intersection of Fourth street. Fourth street, at that par icular point existed only on the maps, and Peppleton avenue was spanned by a wooden treptle, between the supports of which was a narrow and almost impassable readway, which was used very little by the people of that vicinity. An arrangement was made between the B. & M. management and the city whereby this intersection was closed to travel and was filled up, and a street was opened alongside the right-of-way of the railtoad, running from Poppleton avenue to Pierce street, the next street north. In opening this street a corner was taken off of one of Tautkus' lots and he received $2,500 for this little piece of ground. Subsequently the city wasted a lot of dirt n Poppleton avenue in front of the Tautkus property, but without the formality of appointing appraisers to access the damages caused by the grading. Tauthus at once went into court for damages, but before the case came to trial the city removed every foot of the dirt and the case fell through n the meantime Tautkus had moved his ence, so as to include within its limits the corner taken for a street and for which he had received $2,500. He also commenced sult for damages caused by the water, which he said had collected on his premises by reason of the dirt which had been placed in Poppleton avenue by the city. This case was tried at the last term of court and Tautkus was awarded damages in the sum of $1.

The Board of Public Works held a stormy Tautkua at his residence nterview with and compelled him to move his fence back to his lot line and to not include within a Some Diseases, But It is a Failure

In Stomach Troubles. Mere faith will not digest your food for you, will not give you an appetite, will not increase your flesh and strengthen your nerves and heart, but Stuart's Dyep Tablets will do these things, because they are composed of the elements of digestion they contain the juices, acids and peptones necessary to the digestion and assimilation of all wholesome food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will diges: food if placed in a jar or bottle in water heated to 98 degrees, and they will do it much more effectively when taken into the tomach after meals, whether you have faith that they will or not. They invigorate the stomach, make pure slood and strong nerves in the only way that nature can do it, and that is from plenty of wholesome food well digested. It s not what we eat, but what we digest that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by nearly all druggists at 50 cents for full size! package, or by mall from the Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

The dirt which was taken out of Poppleton avenue after he had commenced his damage suft was thrown into the river near the foot of Poppleton avenue and the city et-turney says he would not be surprised to see Tautkus commence suit for damages because the channel of the river had been changed by reason of that dirt having been thrown

STILL WASHING THE DIRTY LINEN. Taking of Testimony in Lingalett Divorce Case Continues.

Nearly all the residents in the vicinity of

I wenty-fourth and Hamilton streets were in Judge Keysor's court testifying on one side or the other of the Lingafelt divorce case. The defendant is still introducing evidence in support of his counter claim of adultery. Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Heim were on the stand yesterday morning and testified to what they had seen from the residence of Mrs. Reynolds, which is across the street from the home of the Lingafelts. Mrs. Reynolds testified in exact detail as to the customs and habits of the entire Lingafelt household. She said she had often watched all the members of the family from her front window bers of the family from her front window and had seen "things which were just terrible." She said she had invited some of the neighbors to come into her house and see the sights and said they "couldn't help looking." On one occasion she said she and Mrs. Heim watched Mrs. Linesfelt sitting in the lange Mysfield for Linguielt sitting in the lap of Maxield for about twenty minutes. The couple were sitting in the back part of a side room and the witness could see them through a orreen door. It was between 5 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon, early in September, and the witness and Mrs. Helm watched them, knowing that Lingafeit would soon be home. They saw him come and the couple across the street saw him, too, for Mrs. Lingafelt jumped and she and Maxfield sat in separate chairs. On cross-examination it wa shown that Mrs. Reynolds spent a large part of her time in the front part of her house, watching to see what was transpiring at the lingafelt house. She disclaimed any feeling of animosity toward Mrs. Lingafelt, she "pitied her." She admitted that she had gone about the neighborhood inform ing the other women of what she had seen. Mrx. Heim's testimony was along the sam ine as that of Mrs. Reynolds, but was not so Intervenes in the Linton Case. Judge Slabaugh is hearing the case of Morris against Linton, in which Moses R. Trauerman has intervened to prevent a settlement cut of court, until his claim has been ad-justed. The original case grows out of a which was somewhat famous a few years ago, when an English syndicate at-tempted to get possession of property in this city belonging to Mrs. Phoebe Rebecca E. E. Saved the Life of Young Nelson Henry C. Davies, a 14-year-old boy, who lives in the neighborhood of Thirty-second and Hamilton streets, performed a little act of heroism Monday. He and some other boys were playing about a pool of water near the corner, when a lad of his own age, named Nelson, fell in. Nelson could not swim, and, as the pool is about twelve fee: deep, he was in great danger of drowning. Davies, however, promptly stripped off his clothes, and, jumping into the water, reacued Nelson after he had gone down once. The boys carried Nelson to his home at 3024 Hamilton street, where he recovered in a short time.

In the United States court yesterday after of the city for an injunction to restrain the sale of the water work's plant which is advertised to take place today under foreclosure proceedings. The city has filed a petition of intervention setting forth that the company had forfelled its franchise by reforal and neglect to live up to its requirements. City Attorney Connell appeared in behalf of the city, and in support of his motion for a postponement stated the works were now being economically and profitably conducted, carning from $230,000 to $250,000 per year above operating expenses, and therefore the delay asked for would work no injustice to the holders of the mortgage under which

John L. Webster, for the American Water Works company of Illinois, as the owner of the franchise, claimed the right to be heard in the pending litigation, inasmuch more than usual interest is being taken in as the court of appeals in its recent decision had intimated there were some questions not adjudicated in the case before and which could only be raised were the that the mortgage was invalid because the company had no right to mortgage the without the consent of the cits, which had never been granted, and if it should be determined this contention was good the cale of the plant would leave the company will a duty to perform under its franchise when it was deprived of the means of accomplish

In passing upon the case Judge Shiras cald there were three principal points to be con-sidered—first, as to whether the original holder of the franchise had a right to assign the same; second, as to whether the conpany had a right to execute a mortgage; and third, whether there has been a forfeiture of the franchise.

The court of appeals had decided the frachise could be assigned and if it could be assigned it would follow, as a rule, that it could be mortgaged, but whether the proerty of a corporation charged with a publi buty could be mortgaged without the consent of the public remained to be determined, and purchasers under sale of such mortgage yould obtain no rights they did not have before the purchase. As the city was not party to the suit under which the sale wa ordered, its rights were not affected. Th purchaser could have after the sale in greater defense to the charge that the frau thise of the company had been forfeited than he company originally had. So far as th ights of the American Water Works con cated. The injunction was therefore deute and the sale will be proceeded with.

Mrs. Ward Compliments the Local Socicty_Bishop Talbet Speaks of Conditions in the West-Gaining Ground.

The teath annual meeting of the Wemen's Auxiliary of the diocere of Nebraska in now being held at Trinity cathedral in this city. The meeting opened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning with the largest attendance that has ever favored the suxiliary and with the administration of the hely communion, after which the regular business meeting of the society was held.

The following officers were elected: Prestdent, Mrs. George Worthington; vice president, Mrs. Charles W. Lyman; secretary, Mrs. Philip Potter; treasurer, Mrs. R. R. Ringwalt. Mrs. Guy E. Brown of Lincoln was elected district vice president for the Lincoln district, and Mrs. Bix of Beatrice was elected to a similar position for the Beatrice district. The vice presidents for the other two districts were left to be appointed by the bishop.

At 1 o'clock a lunch was served in the basement of the cathedral, and at 3 o'clock basement of the cathedral, and at 3 o'clock the main session of the day was begin. This was a missionary meeting, at which addresses were made by At. Rev. Dr. Talbet, bishop of Wyoming and Idaho, and Mrs. Van Shaick Ward of Chicago.

In the course of her address Mrs. Ward said: "This is my second visit to you and I assure you it is a double pleasure to return and meet with you again. The splendid work the auxiliary of this diocese has done has stamped it as one of the most efficient has stamped it as one of the most efficient we have. You are to be congratulated, I think, that you have for your president the wife of your bishop. Where a dicesse is so blessed every woman belonging to the auxiliary should stimulate herself to the greatest efforts in behalf of the work we have before to " Mrs. Ward then spoke briefly of her recent rip around the world and of the missionary work she had observed while en route. She commended the work of the missionaries in the Sandwich Islands, in Japan, in China, in India and in other countries that she visited. She deprecated the fact that entichtened men and women who had been educated in the schools and colleges of civilized countries, had been converted to Buddahism. He said his diocess was a large one, embracing both Wyoming and Idaho, From the southeast corner of Wyoming to the northwest corner of Idaho measured more than 1,500 miles. He was sent out in that territory nine years ago. "Then you that that territory nine years ago. "Ther have helped me nobly but there is still a great work before us. I want you to realize that the work is yours, not mine, merely your representative. We look upon Omaha as a great city and we expect a great deal of aid from here. We have your drummers with us constantly. They bring us many things that are bad but also many things that are good.

"Nine years ago when I went out there our churches numbered seven. New we have thirty-two. There were no educational institutions nor hospitals. Now the church has under its care a number of schools to our boys and girls, some schools for Indian children and several hospitals. A good children and several hospitals. A good deal of our transportation still has to be done on a stage coach but the transportation facilities have improved immensely since I've been there. Then we had only the Union Pacific, running through the southern part of Wyoming and diagonally across Idahe. Besides the Union Pacific we now have the Burlington, the Chicago & North-ern Pacific, and extensions that will prove very valuable to that country are being clanned. As the entrance of railways increase our responsibilities.

"In many of our towns in Wyoming and Idaho you may find but one church and generally it is one of ours. We have gone into these places early and by hard work secured a feethold. We have three separate funds for our missionary money—that for the support of the clergy, the educational fund and the church building fund. We raise the money largely from the people themselves. One year we raised $17,000. themselves. One year we raised $17,000, That was raised in a silver year—I'm not going to discuss the silver question. But that was raised in a year when all the silmines were running and times were d. But these are anxious times with us now, and I don't look for more than $13,-000 this year, and the people will deprive themselves of many pleasures and necessities to raise that amount."

URGING THE CENTER STREET LINE. Property Owners Urge Additional Fa-Residents and property owners in the conthwest portion of the city in the vicinity of Center street, west of Hanscom park, are about to renew their attempt to force the construction of a street railway line from the fair grounds along Center street to Hanscom park, to connect with the Thirty-second street line and form a loop at the west end with the Leavenworth street line.

A delegation was at the court house yesterday afternoon interviewing some of the commissioners and examining the record to see the exact status of the matter. They found that the resolution authorizing the construction of the line out Leavenworth street to Elimwood park and thence south and west to the fair grounds, contained a provision to the effect that the Omaha Street Railway company should also construct a line from the fair grounds along Center street to form a loop with the Leavenworth street line, "pro-vided, the location of the fair grounds was to be permanent and provided, also, that the business of the line would, in their judg-ment, warrant the expense of so doing." The discovery of this large sized loop hele was something of an eye opener to the visitors, but they went away with the avowed intention of bringing the matter officially to the attention of the Board of County Commissioners in a written communication and a petition signed by all the property owners
